Historical Note

Schramm, Inc. is a leading manufacturer of air compression, drilling, and construction equipment, headquartered in West Chester, PA.

The company was founded in 1900 as Schramm & Maerky, a partnership between German-emigre Christian D. Schramm and Swiss-emigre Emil Maerky based in Philadelphia, first at 128 N 3rd Street, then at 308 N 4th Street. The company's first great success was the development of make-and-break spark ignition heads for gas engines.

In 1902, the Schramm-Maerky partnership was dissolved. Schramm bought out Maerky's stake in the company and moved the operation to increasingly larger manufacturing spaces in Philadelphia. In 1908, Schramm built the first portable engine driven air compressor. This product took the industry by storm and made the company an internationally recognized air compressor manufacturer.

Schramm went into partnership with his son, Henry N. Schramm, in 1907 or 1910, depending on the source. In November of 1917 the company was incorporated as Chris D. Schramm and Son, Inc., and the father-son duo sold stock in the company in order to buy the former West Chester Engine Company factory at 800 E. Virginia Avenue in West Chester, which became the company's permanent headquarters. They also opened showrooms in Philadelphia and New York.

By 1922, the Schramm headquarters was in a location that previously housed Sharpless Separator Works and was built in 1910. It contained 25,000 square feet on seven acres and Schramm fully converted the space for the company's needs.

During World War I, Schramm, Inc. largely manufactured balloon hoists for the U.S. Signal Corps. The company also assembled low-pressure compressors for diving and salvage efforts. By World War II, Schramm, Inc. was manufacturing equipment for the federal government.

The company, and its subsidiary Pneumatic and Electric Equipment Company (PEECO) has continued to innovate throughout its history with steady production lines of compressors, Pneumatractors, Pneumagopher, and Rotadrill construction equipment. The company initially focused on portable air compressors, but switched to the production of rotary drilling rigs in the 1950s. In 1950, the company introduced its Pneumatractor, a self-propelled air compressor unit that was designed to operate with a front-end loader, etc. The tractor had many applications and provided an opportunity to expand the company. In 1955, Schramm, Inc. introduced its Rotadrill, which it perfected over the following decades.

The company also stayed under family control throughout the 20th century, passing in succession to Henry's sons Harold J. and Leslie "L.B." Schramm before Harold's son Richard "Dick" Schramm became the fourth-generation director of the company in 1983, after starting as a manufacturing engineer in 1961.

This family-focused nature extended to the company's employees. In 1917, Schramm introduced a bowling league for employees. In the following years, Schramm added basketball, baseball, boxing, and track teams. In 1924, Schramm offered its employees paid vacations, and in 1927, offered sick benefits and life insurance. It also introduced annual awards banquets and picnics for employees. Schramm was also known to pay fair weekly wages in addition to monthly bonuses.

Schramm equipment was crucial to the rescue the 33 miners trapped during the 2010 Copiapo Mining Accident. In the 2010 mining accident in Chile, the company built both drilling rigs that were key to saving the miners.

By 2015, Schramm, Inc. acquired Australian company AirDrill and AirDrill Hammers and Bits. Schramm and AirDrill had a formal relationship as early as 1994. In 2020, Schramm, Inc. launched a joint venture with Hardwick Machinery.

Scope and Contents and Arrangement note

The Schramm collection measures 60 linear feet and dates from 1908 - 2000. Reproductions of material dating to 1895 are also included. The photo collection documents the everyday company operations and promotional activities of Schramm, Inc. It also documents Schramm product lines, model variations, and accessories of stationary and portable air compressors, Pneumatractors, Pneumagophers, and Rotadrills. Construction jobs utilizing Schramm equipment throughout the United States are well documented, as well as construction rental company storefronts stocking Schramm products. Finally, group photos, photos of events, and personnel headshots are present in the collection.

Beyond photographs, the collection features various paper ephemera related to specific photoshoots, primarily in the form of printed advertisements and correspondence letters.

The Schramm, Inc. collection does not include company records, product blueprints, or financial data. This material is held at Drexel University Archives.

The Schramm, Inc. photographs are arranged in 4 series. Series III and IV are arranged in original order. Series I and II have subseries arranged by topic/subject. Please see processing information note for more information.

- IV. Negatives, 1936-1990, undated (negative boxes)

Series 1: Machinery Prints - Materials date from 1944 to 1999 and consist of photographs detailing Schramm equipment models and machinery parts, construction projects utilizing Schramm products, and Schramm product advertising. Related negatives are occasionally included per original order. 8 Boxes.

Series 2: Personnel Prints - Materials date from 1944 to 1981 and consist of labeled and unlabeled photographs of Schramm employees, product dealers, visitors, various company personnel, documentation of Schramm headquarters and Schramm-affiliated storefronts. Related negatives are occasionally included per original order. 3 Boxes.

Series 3: Schramm Vintage - Materials date from 1908 to 1944 and consist of original and reprint photographs largely created prior to the company adopting their modern photo numbering schema in 1944. All items are in original order with related negatives occasionally included. Some additional material potentially within this date range is also found in Series 1 with related subject matter per original order. 2 Boxes.

Series 4: Negatives - Features all sheet negatives, 35mm negatives, and 120 film negatives not found in the print series, ranging in date from 1944 - 1990. Also includes all negative 35mm film roll canisters and all positive 35mm film roll canisters, ranging in date from 1936 - 1960.

Administrative Information

Conditions Governing Access note

Collection is open for research.

The archives reserves the right to restrict access to materials of sensitive nature. Please contact the department for further information.

Restricted for preservation: One box of sheet negatives with vinegar syndrome. Seventy-four nitrate roll negatives in freezer storage.

Conditions Governing Use note

The collection is the physical property of the Chester County History Center Library. The History Center holds literary rights only for material created by History Center personnel or given to the History Center with such rights specifically assigned. For all other material, literary rights, including copyright, belong to the authors or their legal heirs and assigns. Researchers are responsible for obtaining permission from rights holders for publication and for other purposes where stated.

Immediate Source of Acquisition note

Richard Schramm, 2019.

Provenance note

The collection was housed at Schramm, Inc. Headquarters before being donated by Richard Schramm.

Processing information note

Processed by Bob Boddingham and Kelin Baldrige, 2021-2022.

The Schramm collection materials are largely presented in original folder composition as kept by Schramm, Inc. Folders have been sorted by general subject matter. The collection stems from several distinct photo collections held by different company departments over the history of Schramm, Inc. Sue Gabriel was a Schramm employee instrumental in the compiling of company photo files, as attested by Dick Schramm and evident by the many handwritten notes addressed to her attached to photo material.
